PERFORMANCE RIGHTS & ROYALTY PAYMENTS: All amateur and stock performance rights to this play are controlled exclusively by Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. No amateur or stock production groups or individuals may perform this play without securing license and royalty arrangements in advance from Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. Questions concerning other rights should be addressed to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. If necessary, we will contact the author or the author’s agent. PLEASE NOTE that royalty fees for performing this play can be located online at Brooklyn Publishers, LLC website (http://www.brookpub.com). Royalty fees are subject to change without notice. Professional and stock fees will be set upon application in accordance with your producing circumstances. Any licensing requests and inquiries relating to amateur and stock (professional) performance rights should be addressed to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. You will find our contact information on the following page.

Royalty of the required amount must be paid whether the play is presented for charity or profit and whether or not admission is charged. Only forensics competitions are exempt from this fee.

AUTHOR CREDIT: All groups or individuals receiving permission to produce this play must give the author(s) credit in any and all advertisement and publicity relating to the production of this play. The author’s billing must appear directly below the title on a separate line where no other written matter appears. The name of the author(s) must be at least 50% as large as the title of the play. No person or entity may receive larger or more prominent credit than that which is given to the author(s).

PUBLISHER CREDIT: Whenever this play is produced, all programs, advertisements, flyers or other printed material must include the following notice:

Produced by special arrangement with Brooklyn Publishers, LLC (http://www.brookpub.com)

TRADE MARKS, PUBLIC FIGURES, & MUSICAL WORKS: This play may include references to brand names or public figures. All references are intended only as parody or other legal means of expression. This play may contain suggestions for the performance of a musical work (either in part or in whole). Brooklyn Publishers, LLC have not obtained performing rights of these works. The direction of such works is only a playwright’s suggestion, and the play producers should obtain such permissions on their own. The website for the U.S. copyright office is http://www.copyright.gov.

COPYING: from the book in any form (in whole or excerpt), whether photocopying, scanning recording, videotaping, storing in a retrieval system, or by any other means, is strictly forbidden without consent of Brooklyn Publishers, LLC.

TO PERFORM THIS PLAY
1. Royalty fees must be paid to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC before permission is granted to use and perform the playwright’s work.
2. Royalty of the required amount must be paid each time the play is performed whether the play is presented for charity or profit and whether or not admission is charged.
3. When performing one-acts or full-length plays, enough playbooks must be purchased for cast and crew.
4. Copying or duplication of any part of this script is strictly forbidden.
5. Any changes to the script are not allowed without direct authorization by Brooklyn Publishers, LLC.
6. Credit to the author and publisher is required on all promotional items associated with this play’s performance(s).
7. Do not break copyright laws with any of our plays. This is a very serious matter and the consequences can be quite expensive. We must protect our playwrights who earn their living through the legal payment of script and performance royalties.

Copying, rather than purchasing cast copies, and/or failure to pay royalties is a federal offense. Cheating us and our wonderful playwrights in this manner will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Please support theatre and follow federal copyright laws.
MARJORIE

Addie -- Addie wake up, please. Addie, you've got to wake up. A grunt. A groan. It was 2 A.M., what did I expect? (beat) Addie, Addie please? (another beat) Super lethargic big sister syndrome. I couldn't give up. Addie, wake up, sister dearest darling, please, I'm begging you. Addie, wake up, please -- only the most important discovery of all time has just been made, and it is about to rock your world. Still no dice... Because I got in there -- I did, that's right. I was brave and I crept down the hall and I did it. I used a hairpin and I got in. And, oh Addie, it was beautiful, so very beautiful, there on a hanger in the closet. It was hers, it was mother's wedding dress. And it was so beautiful, just the way I imagined it.

(SHE shakes her sister.)

Addie, Addie are you listening to me?

(Another moment, and a sense of frustration.)

Addie, I found it -- the wedding dress. Mother's dress. I crept down the hall and got in the locked room and saw for myself, and it was so sweet and darling and beautiful. Oh Addie, you've got to wake up and listen to me. What I'm telling you is, at long last I found it. "You what?" Aha!

"But -- ?" So pristine and pure and beautiful. You have never seen a dress so pure, Addie, in all your life -- so white and pure and infinitely beautiful. Oh Addie, she must have looked so beautiful on her wedding day-- so sweet and lovely and beautiful. As she was sweet and lovely and beautiful always, with her eyes shining and her bright smile. "You know what daddy said!" I know -- don't go in there. Strictly forbidden. Off limits, painful memories department. But this was my mother we were talking about, my mother who was no longer with us, who had died in the hospital three years ago. Whom we had loved with all our heart. Who was gentle and good to us, who always loved and cared for us. But then was stricken with an awful cancer, truly awful, and was gone.
