

MADHOUSE

A Ten-Minute Comedy Monologue

by
Shirley Barrie

BROOKLYN PUBLISHERS, LLC

Publishers of Contest-Winning Drama

Copyright © 2000 by Shirley Barrie
All rights reserved

CAUTION: Professionals & amateurs are hereby warned that Madhouse is subject to a royalty. This play is fully protected under the copyright laws of the United States of America, Canada, the British Commonwealth and all other countries of the Copyright Union.

RIGHTS RESERVED: All rights to this play are strictly reserved, including professional and amateur stage performance rights. Also reserved are: motion pictures, recitation, lecturing, public reading, radio broadcasting, television, video and the rights of translation into non-English languages.

PERFORMANCE RIGHTS & ROYALTY PAYMENTS: All amateur and stock performance rights to this play are controlled exclusively by Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. No amateur or stock production groups or individuals may perform this play without securing license and royalty arrangements in advance from Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. Questions concerning other rights should be addressed to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. If necessary, we will contact the author or the author's agent. PLEASE NOTE that royalty fees for performing this play can be located online at Brooklyn Publishers, LLC website (<http://www.brookpub.com>). Royalty fees are subject to change without notice. Professional and stock fees will be set upon application in accordance with your producing circumstances. Any licensing requests and inquiries relating to amateur and stock (professional) performance rights should be addressed to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC. You will find our contact information on the following page.

Royalty of the required amount must be paid, whether the play is presented for charity or profit and whether or not admission is charged. Only forensics competitions are exempt from this fee.

AUTHOR CREDIT: All groups or individuals receiving permission to produce this play must give the author(s) credit in any and all advertisement and publicity relating to the production of this play. The author's billing must appear directly below the title on a separate line where no other written matter appears. The name of the author(s) must be at least 50% as large as the title of the play. No person or entity may receive larger or more prominent credit than that which is given to the author(s).

PUBLISHER CREDIT: Whenever this play is produced, all programs, advertisements, flyers or other printed material must include the following notice:

Produced by special arrangement with Brooklyn Publishers, LLC

(<http://www.brookpub.com>)

TRADE MARKS, PUBLIC FIGURES, & MUSICAL WORKS: This play may include references to brand names or public figures. All references are intended only as parody or other legal means of expression. This play may contain suggestions for the performance of a musical work (either in part or in whole). Brooklyn Publishers, LLC have not obtained performing rights of these works. The direction of such works is only a playwright's suggestion, and the play producer should obtain such permissions on their own. The website for the U.S. copyright office is <http://www.copyright.gov>.

COPYING: from the book in any form (in whole or excerpt), whether photocopying, scanning recording, videotaping, storing in a retrieval system, or by any other means is strictly forbidden without consent of Brooklyn Publishers, LLC.

TO PERFORM THIS PLAY

1. Royalty fees must be paid to Brooklyn Publishers, LLC before permission is granted to use and perform the playwright's work.
2. Royalty of the required amount must be paid each time the play is performed, whether the play is presented for charity or profit and whether or not admission is charged.
3. When performing one-acts or full-length plays, enough playbooks must be purchased for cast and crew.
4. Copying or duplication of any part of this script is strictly forbidden.
5. Any changes to the script are not allowed without direct authorization by Brooklyn Publishers, LLC.
6. Credit to the author and publisher is required on all promotional items associated with this play's performance(s).
7. Do not break copyright laws with any of our plays. This is a very serious matter and the consequences can be quite expensive. We must protect our playwrights, who earn their living through the legal payment of script and performance royalties.

8. If you have questions concerning performance rules, contact us by the various ways listed below:

Toll-free: 888-473-8521

Fax: 319-368-8011

Email: customerservice@brookpub.com

Copying, rather than purchasing cast copies, and/or failure to pay royalties is a federal offense. Cheating us and our wonderful playwrights in this manner will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Please support theatre and follow federal copyright laws.

MADHOUSE

by Shirley Barrie

STEPHANIE

Come on, Mr. C., come on. What's taking you so long, you old fart? (SHE looks at the body and talks to it.) Gosh, you're a huge son of a gun. Big as well as mad. But wouldn't hurt a fly, the orderly says. Well, not now you wouldn't. I would. If there was one buzzing around here right now, I'd splat it flat against the wall. I'd catch it in my fist and pull off its wings. I'm not a violent person. Not really. It's just that my life is so the pits.

Mom could have come. She's the one who wants to keep this stupid business going. I thought - I thought the one good thing about Dad dying was that finally we were going to get to live in a real house and be, like, normal or something. But oh no! And she needs help and being the oldest I've got to take responsibility yadda, yadda, yadda. My dumb dad couldn't even hire decent help. I mean, Mr. C. is like about 104 and his eyes are so bad he can't drive at night. So I get stuck driving him up here to the nuthouse. And then he takes forever. Chat, chat. Gossip, gossip. Oh my gosh! Glenna, my friend Glenna, is supposed to call me at ten. Mom'll blab where I am and it'll be all overschool tomorrow. One more nail in the coffin of my weird-dom.

It's true. My whole life people have made fun or been scared or - Grade One. Billy Matthews used to torment me. "Undertaker's Kid," he always called me. And then he started following me home from school. "Pee-Yew. What's that stink?" I'd run and he'd be right after me. (Sing-song) "Undertaker's Kid! Sleeps in a coffin!" Day after day, didn't matter how fast I ran or how hard I cried - though I didn't let him see any tears - he was right behind me. Then one day - "Sleeps in a coffin! (SHE coughs) Cough, cough, cough." He was having a great old time and I - I got mad! I just stopped dead. Turned around. He almost ran right into me. He's like two inches away from my eyes and I say, "Ever seen a coffin?" "No," he says before he can catch himself. "C'mon then," and I start across the road. He doesn't move. "Scared?" Well of course he follows me then. In the side door, through the chapel and into the show room. I take him right up to the really expensive oak casket with the puffy silk pillow. "See that? You chase me home one more time, my Dad's gonna put you in there and screw the lid down. Tight." Couldn't see him for dust he was out of there so fast. Bet he hasn't said two words to me since. Worse luck. 'Cause Billy Matthews is only the most gorgeous guy in the whole school!

One date I've had in my miserable life. One! Last year. Sean. He comes and picks me up and Mom and Dad are, like, almost normal. We have a really good time at the party. He drives me home and we're parked outside and I get this feeling like he's gonna kiss me. You know? And all of sudden the garage door swings up and Dad backs out the wagon. Pulls up right beside the car and says, "Hey, Sean. Want to come out on a call with me?" Sean goes white as a ghost, mumbles something about his curfew and that was the end of that.

Dad thought it was funny. I could have died. (pause) That's such a dumb expression. Dad was the one who died. (leaning down) Youdied, too. I just suffered horrible, insupportable, never-ending, humiliation. Every guy in the school had a real good reason for not asking me out. Maybe you know what I'm talking about - being crazy and all. Sorry. Mentally ill.

END OF FREE PREVIEW